

Verify your email after creating an account

Public help

If you create a LinkUp account with an email address and password, LinkUp may send a verification link to that email address.

1. Check the inbox for the email address used during signup.
2. Open the LinkUp verification email.
3. Select the verification link.
4. Return to LinkUp and sign in again if needed.

If you do not click the verification link

Your account may remain unverified. When verification is required, an unverified account cannot fully sign in until the email address is confirmed.

If you try to sign in before verifying, LinkUp may send a fresh verification email.

Google accounts

Google sign-in is different. LinkUp does not send a separate verification email for Google sign-in because Google verifies the email address.
